Please note: Fees do not include accommodation.

Method of Payment

Overseas participants should pay Registration Fee at the Registration Desk upon arrival.

Letter of Invitation

Congress Secretariat will be pleased to send an official letter of invitation upon request. It is understood that such an invitation is intended to help potential participants raise travel funds or obtain visa. (Please note: It is not a commitment on the part of the Organizing Committee to provide any financial support.)

Liability

In the event of a natural disaster or other unforeseen disruptive circumstances, the congress organizers accept no responsibility for loss of monies incurred by participants. Participants are strongly encouraged to make their own arrangements with respect to personal travel and health insurance.

Financial Support for Participants from Developing Countries especially in the Asian Region

The Organizing Committee is particularly keen to involve right persons from developing countries especially in the Asian region in the congress. We will consider financial support to help defray the whole or a part of expenses associated with congress attendance (air, ground transportation, staying costs and registration fee) to those who wish to apply within our financial capacity.

To apply for financial support, you must submit an abstract along the lines set in the "Call for Papers" in principle. Also you have to inform the Secretariat to apply for financial support and your future plan to work in this field.

Although our financial capacity is limited, we shall give the assistance first to victims, their supporter and dedicated scientists.

Successful applicants will receive the Letter of Grant up to June 30, 2004.
